

Matte Robinson (CANADA)

Matte Robinson, PhD, is Chair of the Department of English Language and Literature at St. Thomas University. He is co-editor of the late notebooks of Hilda Doolittle (or "H.D."), The Hirslanden Notebooks (ELS, 2015), and author of The Astral H.D. (Bloomsbury, 2017), a study of the occult and religious sources for H.D.'s late poetry. With Bill Randall, he is also co-editor of the book Things That Matter: Special Objects in Our Stories As We Age (University of Toronto Press, 2023). The other pole of Matte's professional and creative life has been music. He joined his first professional band in 1994 and since then has been a long-term member of several ensembles. He has guest contributed his trumpet and keys to recordings by Ross Neilsen, Isaac and Blewett, Scotty and the Stars, Sleepy Driver, and other local and regional bands. He has composed for a number of short films and a feature-length film and recorded, mixed, co-produced and produced a number of recordings, including Vetch's last CD, Osiris.